

How to Make your Images Fancy: A Guide

1. Get the image that needs to be added to the site either from the WO, Facebook, Shutterstock etc and edit it to be the size that you want.
 - a. If you are adding this as something to accent the content you do not want to go much bigger than 300px wide
 - b. If you are adding this to the top or the bottom of the content then you don't want it wider than 650px wide
2. Once you get the image the way you want it in Photoshop be sure to name it to something THAT MAKES SENSE – in today's example our image name is going to be DrawingofBlackCat.jpg
3. Next we're going to add it to the ipage that we're working on – upload the image like you normally would and align it to where you want it to be.
4. Once you get the image where you want it to be go to tools → source code
5. In between img and src add in class="pic"

```

6. Hit ok and then hit change content area
7. Next go to site settings and site styles and add in your CSS

```
.pic {margin:15px 10px 20px 20px; border:2px #fff solid; box-shadow: #666 0px 2px 3px;}

8. The above CSS will add a margin around the pic (space between the pic and the text), a white border that is 2px wide as well as a drop shadow
