To Whom It May Concern:

As the owner of an up and coming beauty salon I approach advertising on a multi pronged level, one of which is through YellowPageCity.com. Advertising in an internet phone book was new to me however; in today's market, exposure brings in new customers. In addition, now that I have my own custom made web site through Yellow Page City, I add new items of interest to the site as they are introduced at my salon. The marketing plan is paying off as more and more people learn what I can do to enhance their natural beauty.
